Texas Property Code § 209.00592(b): “By casting your vote via absentee ballot you will forgo the opportunity to consider and vote on any action from the floor on these proposals, if a meeting is held. This means that if there are amendments to these proposals your votes will not be counted on the final vote on these measures. If you desire to retain this ability, please attend any meeting in person. You may submit an absentee ballot and later choose to attend any meeting in person, in which case any in-person vote will prevail.” However, “a nomination taken from the floor in a board member election is not considered an amendment to the proposal for the election.” Your absentee ballot will be counted even if additional nominations are made from the floor during the meeting unless you attend the meeting and cast a new ballot.
